LAW LIBRARY

May Be Established in City-Putnam Now Getting Lion's Share of Ad-

Willimentic may have a law library. Since the death of George Wales Me-ony, corporation counsel and assist-nt clerk of the superior court, there as been agitation among the members the bar association as to what ould become of the briefs and rec-ifs of the supreme court that were his possession. Attorney George Hinman and Attorney W. A. Arnold ere appointed a committee to make investigation and following a condays and you will have the stuvere appointed a committee to make in investigation, and following a con-erence with Clerk Andrew of the su-reme court, notified the members of he has association Thursday that the refs, etc. were the property of the ssociation. This fact gave birth to be local that a law library might be tarted in Willimantle, for the local awvers have long felt that they have not been fairly used in the matter, as not been fairly used in the matter, as most of the books have been kept in Putram. The large number of appro-priations that have been made by the state for the Windham county law li-brary have been of no particular bene-fit to local lawyers as they must so brary have been of no particular benefit to local lawyers, as they must go to Putnam to consult the books. As the number of lawyers in this city is practically equal to the total of Putnam and Danielson, the total lawyers feel that they are entitled to at least some consideration. The Willimantic lawyers now propost to work for a law litrary of their own that will be located in some place where it will be available to all. In all probability when the place for the library has been decided upon some of the books now in Putnam will be brought to this over accided upon some of the books now in Punnam will be brought to this city. At the time the superior court rooms in this city were furnished in the town building a number of law backs were purchased for the judges room. These were bought and paid for by the town of Windham, and some of them have been removed to Putnam. The Willimantic lawyers pro-Putnam. The Willimantic lawyers pro-pose to have these, with the books from the late Squire Melony's office, that belonged to the bar association, together with other books, and add thereto from time to time, and in that way establish a good library that will be of great benefit to all the Willi-mantle lawyers and of especial benefit to any young man of the town desiring to study law.

One of the prominent lawyers of the wn states that in the event that such a move is made he will give to the Willimantle lawyers his entire library, and this means a great deal, as the attorney in question is admitted to have the best library in Windham county. He is contemplating giving up the practice of law within a few

At the present session of the legis At the present session of the legis-lature the usual appropriation of $300 was embodied in a bill for the benefit of the Windham county law library, and in all probability would have been passed and the money used for the Putnam library as heretofore. A local lawyer went to Hartford recently and had an amendment drawn up making the appropriation for $500, with the un-derstanding that half of the amount would come to Willimantic. If this is would come to Willimantic. If this is secured the local attorneys will have a good working nucleus for the forma-tion of the long desired law library.
